

Late Bloomers Photo Journal

Grab a 35 mm camera or ask for your parent's/guardian's permission to use a digital camera. Then start taking pictures of flowers you see blooming this fall, then print out the photos and paste them to this piece of paper. See if you can name any of the flowers and write down all of your observations! Put the multiple sheets of your photo journal in a three ring binder and do not forget to number each page. Good luck!
