

GOOSE HARASSMENT MATERIALS AND SUPPLIES

This sheet is designed to help the landowner, corporation, or organization alleviate problems associated with Canada geese. The key to solving the problem is to make your property less attractive to Canada geese, and to utilize scare tactics immediately when geese show up. Relocating Canada geese and destroying their nests and eggs are NOT effective long-term solutions and will only be authorized as a last resort. Please go to our website (www.ohiodnr.com/gooseconflict) or call the nearest Division of Wildlife District Office listed on this guide if you have additional questions or are in need of further assistance.

CONTROL TECHNIQUES

Pre-nesting Season - Winter/Spring:

- 1) Allow and encourage hunting of geese during legal seasons! Where legal and safe, hunting is strongly recommended.
- 2) Stop ALL feeding immediately.
- 3) Stop pond aeration to allow ponds to freeze, forcing geese to relocate.
- 4) Stop fertilizing grass areas. Fertilized grass is more nutritious and attractive to geese.
- 5) Install a barrier at least 18 inches tall around the entire lake or pond perimeter. Tightly stretched wire strands or fencing works best.
- 6) Use scare devices (dogs, shell crackers, mylar flagging, propane cannons, balloons spaced 5 per acre) to deter potential nesting geese on the property.
- 7) Place a monofilament (150 lb. test) or stainless steel wire (14 ga.) grid spaced at five foot intervals one foot or so above the surface of ponds. You must have a fairly constant water level. This works well for non-recreational ponds where aesthetics are a concern.
- 8) Keep or make pond banks steep: maintain at least a one foot drop to the water level.

Nesting Season - Nests present on the property:

Eggs and nests of ducks and geese are protected by federal law and may not be disturbed or destroyed without authorization. A permit is not required to merely scare, repel, or herd geese, provided no attempt is made to confine the birds or destroy their nests. Nest/egg destruction will only provide temporary relief, and is NOT a successful long-term solution. If the site is not made less attractive, adult geese will only return to nest on your property next year, or other geese will take their place.

A permit from the Division of Wildlife is REQUIRED to destroy nests and eggs, and all permit conditions must be adhered to. However, this permit will only be authorized as a last resort when scare techniques have proven ineffective. Nest/egg destruction can be performed (at the landowner's expense) by the landowner, a landowner-designated agent, or by a private pest control operator.

Long Term:

Allow and encourage hunting of geese during legal seasons! Where legal and safe, hunting is strongly recommended to remove geese from the local population, and discourage their return. Ohio's Early Canada goose season, which is held in September, is an especially effective time to hunt local geese. Habitat alterations and hunting are the most effective long-term solutions to reduce goose problems. Continue to make your property unattractive to geese by following and implementing the above guidelines.
